Greetings,
Unfortunately, I have to share some disappointing news regarding a long-term client of mine. We have worked together for over four years, and I have contributed to many of his projects, including KGHYPE (www.kghype.com).

Around three months ago, he hired me to work on a new project, prepaying $300 for UI design, with an agreement to pay an additional $300 upon completion. We also planned to collaborate on the development of the website after the UI was finalized. However, it now seems that this will not happen.

Client Details

- Name: Cameron Scott
- Alias: Supershiftery
- Socials:
    - YouTube - Supershiftery
    - YouTube - Shiftery Plays
    - YouTube - Shiftery Reviews
    - Instagram - Supershiftery

What Happened?

After delivering the UI, Cameron delayed the remaining payment, citing various excuses—ranging from being on an island and promising to reply on Monday to a family emergency. While I understand personal issues arise, I wouldn't be making this post if he had at least communicated with me properly.

He later stated that he wanted revisions and wouldn't pay until they were completed. However, when I asked for a list of revisions, he assured me he'd respond on Monday—only to never reply again.

Final Thoughts

I did not expect this from someone I've worked with for so long. I have tried to be patient, but after months of unfulfilled promises and ignored messages, I feel I have no choice but to make this public in the hope that he does the right thing and pays for the completed work.

I remain open to resolving this professionally. Cameron, if you see this, please reach out and honor our agreement.

Okay
Admin panel requires heavy customizations
So i do need u to list me features out which you need.
and revisions on the ui aswell
Trident - tridentventures.org 11/02/2025 15:58
But i also do need to be paid those 300$ now, after that il handle all revisions u need.
Ive been trying to contact u for like 25-30 days.
